Adopted, December II, 1882.

JOHN McGILL, MAYOR.

M. M. McLEOB City Clerk.

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 12, 1882.

How. John McGill, Mayor of Jackson:

Dean Sir—As requested by you I have looked into the question of the validity of the city's title, to lands in Jackson bid off to the city at tax sales. I apprehend, and the decided current of my opinion is that under the laws as they existed before the amendment of the city charter, in March, 1882, the city took no valid titles to lands struck off to her by the Tax Collector.

The revenue power of such a municipal corporation is just what is given by the Legislative charter and no more, and in determining whether a particular power is given the charter and the consideration of a good fee in the case, the fact that Col. Tison Jackson, Miss., Dec. 12, 1882.

whether, a particular power is given the charter is ctricity construed and the grant of power is ctricity construed and the grant of power must be found expressed in the charter. I quote from the old charter, the only portions that confer revenue powers against land.

They (the M. and A.) shall have power to levy a tax in "each and every year in a sum not exceeding 50 cents (afterwards changed) on every hundred dollars of value on all lets of ground or lots and tenements in said city."

All who lead a closely confined life are ground or lots and tenements in said city."

nually an assessor and collector of taxes "and that the powers conferred upon assessors and collectors of the county and State in relation to the assessors and collectors of the county and State in relation to the assessment and collectors of the county and State in relation to the assessment and collectors of the county and state in relation to the assessment and collectors of the county and state in relation to the assessment and collectors of the county and state in relation. to the assessment and collection thereof be, entirely. Pleasant as a glass of soda, and the same is hereby conferred on the as-sessor and collector of taxes for said city." cheaper than pills and never fails.

Charter p. 6, 24. Charter p. 6, § 4.

Those are the only revenue powers against real estate contained in the original charter. That charter was granted February 22, 1840. At that time there was no law authorizing a tax collector to bid in land for the State. The first act that gave that power to State collectors was passed in 1842, and therefore said other remedies combined.

AFTER a severe test of twelve years, by many leading physicians and thousands of females, it has been thoroughly demensionable demands of females, it has been thoroughly demands of females Section 5 did not authorize the city collector to bid them in for the city.

The city charter was amended January 24, Mailed by John Parham, Atlanta, Ga.

1860. It provided "that deeds made to pur-chasers of lots at city tax sales, together with valid have been complied with." Charter, etc.

amendments thereto is there any power or authority given to the city or any person for it, to buy the property of its citizens fortaxes either for its own or the State and county taxes. All the legislative grants of power go no further than to levy taxes, sell for taxes; there is no flower to buy for taxes. Nor did the corporate authorities (that I can find), ever authorize the purchase of the property of the city or direct that it should be stricken off to the city until 1872; when the Mayor and Aldaryan orderined "that if the city to the city until 1872; when the Mayor and off to the city until 1874; when the Mayor and Aldermen ordained "that if at the sale of property," (real or personal) for taxes, no person bid the amount "of taxes the same should be struck off and deeded to the city."

p. 48, § 53. But the property may be redeemed by the owners within two years, by paying the sum of money due for taxes, and costs of sale, with 30 per cent. interest. § 54.

I think that the foregoing quotations from the charter and its amendments do not confer on the city the power to buy lands sold for manufacturers. on the city the power to buy lands sold for city taxes. There cannot be a pretence that such a power is conferred by them, unless it be founded on the clause quoted from section 4 of the charter; that clause has no immediate relation to the city's power to make such purchases, it only prescribed in general terms.

Also new and beautiful designs of Jewelry in relied gold plate; of French Gilt Clocks, and of over $1,000 00 worth of solid and quadrelation to the city's power to make such purchases, it only prescribed in general terms.
